

71ST ANNUAL
STATE LEADERSHIP CONFERENCE

MARCH 18-20, 2018
BILLINGS, MONTANA

Inspired by FCCLA

We are honored to have served and lead Montana FCCLA this year as we worked with our members, advisers, and board of directors to accomplish amazing things.

At the Leadership Rally this year, our 250+ attendees strengthened their leadership skills. We learned how we can inspire others and spark change in our families, careers, and communities.

We have shown our communities the power of FCCLA members as we have dedicated over 12,000 hours of service learning this year.

Together, we will reach our Destination Inspiration as we enhance our College and Career Ready Skills at the 71st annual Montana FCCLA conference. Congratulations on earning a trip to Billings. We know you have conducted numerous fundraisers, dedicated hours to your competitive events and are recognized as a leader in your chapter by being here this week. Best of luck in your competitions, learn something new, and most importantly, have fun!

Sincerely,
Your 2017-18 State Executive Council

DESIGN YOUR WORLD

BITTERROOT - RL

By Teresa Slye, Gallatin College

Take this workshop if you are interested in creating your own spaces. What does it take to shape the space you use? What is the difference between what TV shows as interior design and the real world? We will think about how you can create spaces that speak to your own interests. What if you could design malls, game stores, schools or clothing stores? What would you add to make them fun, current and relevant to the user? Can a clothing store invite you in, or a game store educate you?

TALKIN' TRASH

By Natalie Redick, PRC VISTA-Billings & Gilly Levy, PRC VISTA-Hardin

Have you noticed food being wasted in your schools? Learn ways to rescue food that is unwanted and unused and shared with students who need it. Montana teachers are using their own money to ensure hungry students are fed. Use rescued food to create healthy recipes like banana bread, parfaits, etc. which can be used for student group bake sales or can be used in recipes to create snacks for students.

Enjoy a cooking demonstration and sample a healthy breakfast option that allows students to get the nutrients they need to have a healthy start to their school day.

REVERSE-ENGINEERING YOUR STORY

BITTERROOT - RL

By Kyle Scheele

Once you decide to live a good story, what happens next? How do you decide what to do with your life? And once you decide, how do you get there? The answer lies in reverse-engineering. In this workshop, I help students "begin with the end in mind", backtracking step-by-step to plan out the right path to reach their dream.

Questions include:

- How do I decide what to do with my life?
- How do I know if I'm being unrealistic?
- What should my next steps be?
- Who are the people who can help me reach my dream?

Students walk away with a list of actionable steps to take towards achieving their dream and living a better story. This workshop is a great way to reinforce the ideas from my keynote in a practical, small-group atmosphere.

2:00 - 2:50

SPEAKING IN PUBLIC WITHOUT PEEING YOUR PANTS

BITTERROOT - RL

By Kyle Scheele

Public speaking consistently ranks as the number one fear in America.

The NUMBER ONE FEAR!

Not death, not nuclear war, not even waking up to find that you sleepwalked to school in your underwear.

But public speaking doesn't have to be hard. In fact, it can be a blast for both the speaker AND the audience if you take the time to learn a few tricks of the trade. As someone who has spoken to thousands and thousands of teenagers and adults across the country, Kyle knows a thing or two about speaking with confidence, holding an audience's attention, and using humor to drive home a point.

In this workshop, he boils down his years of speaking experience into a practical, step-by-step method for improving your speaking technique.
