

Financial Fitness in FCS and FCCLA

A Hybrid Professional Development Opportunity for Montana FCCLA Advisers

December 13, 2023

Who should attend: Any Montana FCCLA Adviser

How it works: This conference offers a hybrid experience, combining the benefits of in-person with the flexibility of virtual attendance

What you will gain: Innovative strategies for integrating financial education into your FCS classroom and FCCLA activities

How to register: Complete this form by December 1

Cost: Attending is free; attendees pay for lunch at host sites

Attend in person at one of the hosted locations, or remotely on your own (some event activities will only be offered at one of the hosted sites below):

Adele Stenson
Glendive

Katie Umbracio
Ronan

Kim Knoche
Forsyth

Sandy Woldstad
Harlowton

Cathe Felz
Three Forks

Stacy Aaberg
Confad

Financial Fitness in FCS and FCCLA

Tentative Agenda

8:30-8:45 Arrival, get settled

8:45-9:00 Welcome, Review of the Day

9:00-9:15 Financial Fitness State Outreach Project

9:20-10:05 Fusing Financial Education Into FCS, Kimberley Graybill

Looking to incorporate more finance into your FCS program? This session will focus on fusing financial related concepts into FCS content areas in a variety of engaging ways. Participants will walk away with ready to use resources that illustrate many aspects of finances as they relate to Family & Consumer Science.

10:10-11:15 From Debt to Dreams: How Investing In yourself Impacts Your Classroom Engagement, Crissy Lauterbach

Join us for an interactive keynote that will highlight multiple techniques for self-care, boosting student rapport, and increasing classroom engagement in your second semester. Get ready to laugh, to lean in, and to learn!

11:20-12:15 Lunch Break and Networking (Attendees are responsible for their own lunch expense; options vary with location)

12:20-12:45 Montana FCCLA Updates

12:50-1:45 Creating the Pitch, the Product, and Analyzing the Profits - Entrepreneurship Ventures with Teenagers, Beth Beattie

Entrepreneurship needs an idea and the drive to accomplish the plan. How to take a class of students and create manageable business ideas for students to market and sell to their school and community.

1:45-2:00 Closing remarks, evaluations, attendance prizes

Green agenda items are offered only at a hosted site

Meet Our Speakers

Crissy Lauterbach is the Innovative Teaching and Learning Coordinator for Butler Tech in Hamilton, Ohio. In 1994, she earned a Bachelor of Science in Education at Miami University in Oxford, Ohio. She completed her graduate work in Educational Leadership and Curriculum at the University of Dayton and earned a Masters in Administration. She is currently working on her doctorate at Miami University.

Being a 30-year veteran educator, Crissy was the keynote speaker for the Department of Defense Schools' International Future Educators Association in Garmisch, Germany, Tedx Yearling, and the Anthony Munoz Foundation's Youth Summit. She was also the Teacher Ambassador at South Craven School in Yorkshire, England. In 2014, she became the first National Advisor in Residence for Educators Rising.

In 2015, Crissy was named a White House Innovator for her work in Teacher's Academy and Educators Rising. Her awards include: Ohio Teacher of the Year Semifinalist, Leavey Award Winner, Tri-state Educator of the Year, the Wooster Excellence in Education Award, the ACTE Community Service Educator of the Year for Region 1, and the inaugural winner of the Erin Young Award for honoring student voice in her classroom. Crissy's publications can be found in Teach! Magazine, ACTE's Techniques, and as a guest contributor to CTSO Competition Companion. You may follow her on twitter @contactlearning, Instagram contactlearning, and her website www.contactlearning.org.

Crissy Lauterbach

contactlearning.org

Kimberley Graybill

familyconsumersciences.com

A contributor to the www.familyconsumersciences.com website since 2012, Kim became the website's CEO in 2015. Her degree is from Pennsylvania State University and she has taught Family & Consumer Sciences at the junior-senior high school level for over 32 years. Kim's present titles include: Website Host & Interactive Resource Designer, Instructional FACS Coach, and FACS Workshop Host

Beth Beattie

bbeattie.weebly.com

A secondary Family and Consumer Sciences teacher for the past 20 years, Beth Beattie consistently innovates her classroom and curriculum, delivering immersive educational experiences to her students. Beth's experiences in the educational field include advising national FCCLA STAR Events competitors, and many district and state officers. Beth has served two terms as the President of Missouri Educators of Family and Consumer Sciences, innovating the organization and growing the membership. When she isn't living the rock-star teacher life, Beth is camping with her family or riding her scooter to Aldi.